ALBANIA IS PROCLAIMED INDEPENDENT BY ITALY

Step Taken in Realization of Principle of Nationality-Tranquil Existence Is Guaranteed.

ROME, June 4, via Paris, June 6 (delayed) -A semi-official statement in respect to the proclamation of the unity and independence of Albania by Italy says that this step is taken in realization of the principle of nationality. "which is one of the objects of the allies in the war." The statement continues: "Albania, through Italian influence will become an element of development in the Balkans, while its vicinity to Italy and the protection of the latter guarantee to that region a tranquil existence, no more threatened by Ausexistence, no more threatened by Austria or other peoples.
"Since the cessation of Ottoman dominion Italy aimed to reconstruct Albania, while Austria used Albania as a means to exercise dominion through the Balkans. She promised a deceiving autonomy which, if accepted, would soon put the country under the Austrian yoke."

The foregoing dispatch is the first intimation received here of the proclamation of Albania's independence by Italy. On March 10 the official annuncement was made in London that by Italy. On March 10 the official announcement was made in London that Austria had issued a proclamation to the Albanians, granting the country autonomy under an Austrian protectorate. The London statement asserted that the proclamation was intended to justify the levy of Albanians for the Austrian armies. After the occupation of Serbia and Montenegro by the central powers Austrian troops overran the northern portion of Albania. The Italians have held the southern portion of the country, including the important port of Aviona, and have recently extended their gains.
